By The Editor

Dear Andrew: here gone.

A lot of these middle age fellows want to know how to tell a lady of the evening. If they do not already know, it's too late anyway, so what's the difference?

Here Mr. Top, I see where over the from Mr. Dinkert murphy is going 2 or 3 times what these going 2 do not soon, I give you won soon.

Since we changed our mailing list four weeks ago, we have added 40 new subscribers to our list in addition to six or seven additional subscribers. While Jack Carley of the C. A. might say back and forth at such a small increase, we think it pretty fair for a small country weekly.

Personal to Mrs. Yeager: Dorothy has PLENTY of time at lunch time to help you wash those dishes.

My favorite correspondent has returned from a trip to the East looking grimmer than ever.

Dear Colonel Walker and Wife: can you use a C. trained young man, who knows the International Code and how to type it as it comes from the sky?

The rain of second lieutenant has about stopped.

The bus company is doing better now.

It is a great pity that the soldiers have so few places to eat.

If this is an issue sorer than usual, it is because the old lady is falling in Chicago in addition to being a witness in a civil suit.

We are happy to have with us as society editor this week Miss Spill de Beans who draws no punches, fastidious, snippy and dead-end people and bawls it out, with facts and statistics on it, hurts.

My favorite ticket seller will now have to do all the work since Nellie has gone to Greenville.

The GCW is still headquarters for all kinds of stationery for soldiers and airmen.

Hitler is like the traditional fellow who had the bear by the tail. He cannot hold on to the Russian bear forever, yet can not find opportunity to turn loose.

Mrs. J. K. Arent asked the GCW to announce that she is no longer connected with the USO.

I understand my application to join the WPA has been sent to Washington for Presidential approval. I have cursed the New Deal so much that I doubt that I can get in.

I guess the old lady has been kidnapped as I have not heard from her since she left.

Congratulations to J. A. Jones Company, prime contractors for Camp McCain and the Grenada AAB, which is to receive the Naval "E" pennant on March 8th. Most probably, the award will be received by Mr. Edwin J. Jones, Treasurer of the company who is in active charge of the work in the Grenada area. Receiving this information so late, lack of time and space prevent further details being published this week.

You fellows better pay some attention to me this year. I have got rid of my Jonah, as BOTH my men, Eastland and Abernethy, were elected last year.

Several local men are wanting and itching to run for something, if they could just get a little encouragement.

The Ferdinand Club seems to have become a semi-monthly club these days.

The matter of changing the City Charter to permit the aldermen to appoint the marshal and the clerk is still a live issue. The first petition, presented at the February meeting, lacked 8 names of containing 20 percent of the voters. The matter was postponed by the Council until the March meeting. Right now Mr. Walton and several other gentlemen are circulating another petition asking for an election. If HE does not see YOU, then YOU see HIM, and sign that is, if you want to keep a little shred of local self government within your own hands. If people are content to elect their governors, their senators and their jps, they are also content to elect their clerk and marshal. Sign the petition. Help hold on to a trace of local self government.

B. W. McElwath New Member On The Draft Board

Effective February 5, Mr. Ben W. McElwath, cashier at The Plant, became a member of the local Draft Board, replacing Mr. O. L. Kimbrough, who recently resigned. The board is now composed of Messrs. John T. Keeton, (Chairman), S. A. Weir and B. W. McElwath.

Mr. McElwath is a veteran of the first World War, and his acceptance of this important position shows that he is willing to take a lot of often misdirected criticism.

Funds Promised Mrs. Arent For Building

Feb. 10, 1943

Dear Mrs. Arent: We certified to the need for the Grenada, Mississippi, Federal recreation project on January 27. This project as you undoubtedly know calls for a small type Federal recreation building for negro soldiers, and the utilization of Federal funds for the purchase, renovation, and equipment of an existing building for white soldiers.

This application at the present time is being reviewed by the Engineering Division of the Central office of the Federal Works Agency. It should be forwarded for presidential approval and allotment in the near future.

Sincerely yours,
Charles P. Taft,
Assistant Director, Defense Health and Welfare Service.

James O. Weir Buried Monday At Woodland

James O. Weir, known affectionately by his neighbors and friends as "Doc" Weir, died Sunday, February 14, 1943 after only a few days illness.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jim Weir. He was born, he lived and he died in the home on their farm a few miles east of Grenada. His father having been killed by a falling tree over forty years ago, "Doc" being the eldest son has been head of this happy household all his life. He often stated that he would not marry as long as his mother, Mrs. Mable Weir, lived. He was born in December, 1892 and was, therefore, about 50 years of age.

While unostentatious in his manner and never inclined to intrude his ideas and his presence upon others, he rather preferred to stay at home most of the time and work to provide for his aging mother, John Adams, his brother whose mother died when he was an infant, and his brother and sister when they were at home. The night was never too cold or dark for "Doc" to go to the home of a neighbor in distress. It was often said that he was first to come and last to leave when there was trouble in his neighborhood.

He attended the Weir School, but never did receive the education that boys and girls now are privileged to receive.

Funeral services were conducted in the family home by the pastor of the church of which he belonged, Rev. F. R. Thompson, and by Rev. J. H. Malone, former pastor of the First Baptist Church, to which many of the Weirs belong. Pallbearers were Messrs. John Weir, Milton and Howard Rose, Quinn McCormick, Ed McCormick and L. C. Angeline.

Surviving him are a brother, Burrell Weir, and a sister, Annie Weir, also a nephew, John Adams, and several grand nieces and nephews, in all of whom we extend our sympathy in the loss of the "father" of the family.

American Legion Auxiliary Meets

On Monday night Mrs. Sam McCorkle and Mrs. J. L. Cault were co-hostesses to the American Legion Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. McCorkle on College Boulevard.

Social protection of women and children in a camp area was the main topic of discussion. Colonel Campbell, head of the Hospital Division of Camp McCain, gave a very fine address explaining the condition the army desired and the contributions the Federal government would make to have such conditions met. Major Boyd of Colonel Campbell's Staff also appeared on the program.

Dr. Maghee, director of Grenada County Health Unit gave a detailed explanation of the work the health unit is doing to protect the health of our city and county.

Colonel Best, Commanding Officer of the 68th Signal Battalion and his charming wife were distinguished guest as were Lieut. Leech of Colonel Best's Administrative Staff with Mrs. Leech.

The Auxiliary voted to extend an invitation to Mrs. Alice S. Clements, member of Paul V. McNutt's Staff in the capacity of national director of Social Protection in Camp areas, to Grenada at the earliest date she can be obtained.

The double living rooms decorated with clusters of small American flags, spring flowers were also in evidence. A very delectable salad course consisting of frozen fruit salad, suitcases, coffee and macaroons was served. Favors were miniature corsages of daffodils and fern tied with red satin ribbon, from the ribbon ends dangled red hatchets reminder of a truly outstanding character in Americanism. Contributed.

Bill Saunders Elected Chairman USO Operations

On February 16th, a meeting of representative citizens of Grenada held a meeting at the USO center and organized a committee of management for the local USO operations, serving the men at Camp McCain and Grenada Air Base. The following officers were elected: Mr. Billy Saunders, chairman, Mr. L. E. Boone, treasurer, Mrs. A. Isenberg, secretary. The other members of the committee of management are as follows: Mrs. Donald Ross, Mr. Louie Friedman, Mr. Andrew Carothers, Mr. Lewis Odom and the two directors, Mr. Hugh S. Thomas and Mr. John J. Karpales.

Mr. Harry Baker, regional supervisor for Y. M. C. A.-USO served as temporary chairman, and explained the part the committee of management would play in the local USO program.

—Secretary.

MEN OF THE Infantry Division

The executive officer of a unit is the man responsible for the detail functioning of his organization. He supervises the training of the personnel and keeps the Commander correctly informed on everything that is going on.

Brigadier General Russell G. Barkalow, of the 87th Division Artillery.

COLONEL RICHARD M. BACON Executive Officer, Division Artillery

as for his executive officer, Colonel Richard M. Bacon, a gentleman and a soldier.

Born in Boston, Massachusetts, Colonel Bacon is a graduate of Amherst College, receiving his Bachelor of Science degree in 1915. He was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant in 1917 and fought with the 2nd Division as a Battery Officer throughout World War I. During that period he participated in 5 major engagements. After the Armistice he was part of the Army of Occupation in Germany.

Colonel Bacon attended the Artillery School at Fort Sill in 1924 and graduated from the Command and General Staff School in 1928.

The well earned promotions from 2nd Lieutenant to the high rank of a full Colonel were rewards for meritorious service which marks with the stamp of approval, "A job well done" across Colonel Bacon's military record.

During his colorful military career Colonel Bacon has served at Fort Knox, Fort Benning, Rease's Officer's Training Corps, at Purdue, Fort Des Moines, Seftield Barracks and Reserve Officer's Training Corps at Louisiana State University.

Prior to joining the 87th Division Artillery, as Executive Officer to General Barkalow, Colonel Bacon was instructor at the Command and General Staff School.

The Division Artillery functions at the supporting arm of the Infantry. Its function is successfully accomplished through its tremendous fire power. Unless the men who train and guide this Artillery are capable and possess the practical knowledge the "big guns" will fail to justify their employment.

The Infantry units of the 87th can rest assured that the Artillery will support them whenever and wherever such support is necessary. General Barkalow and Colonel Bacon, the men who have been entrusted with the responsibility of coordinating the Artillery to cooperate with the Infantry, will not fail in their task.

Shaw And Usry Graduate At Gulfport

Pvt. James H. Shaw formerly of R. 4, and Wm. R. Usry, of Grenada have been graduated from the big Army Air Forces Technical Training Command School for airplane mechanics at Gulfport Field, and are ready to take their places on the far side of the globe in this global war wherever the biggest American planes are based at home or abroad.

They have received courses of intensive training to fit them for their important task in this war. Their training has also fitted them for important jobs in peacetime aviation.

In private life, Pvt. Shaw was reporter for Grenada County AAA, Grenada, Miss.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Shaw, Grenada, Miss.

In private life, Pvt. Usry was an employee of Grenada Industries, Inc., Grenada, Miss.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Usry, Route 2, Grenada.

Barry P. Rose has returned from the wars, having been discharged because he was over 32. Nobody would have known what his name was unless he had been in the army. Everybody thought his name was "Red."

And they sweet.

W. V. Horton Announces for Supervisor, District Three

The Grenada County Weekly was authorized by Mr. W. V. Horton of District Three to announce that he is a candidate for the office of supervisor from that district.

It seems absolutely superfluous to seek to introduce Mr. Horton to the people of Grenada County, much more superfluous to seek to introduce him to the people of Beat Three where he was born and reared and whom he has served as supervisor for two consecutive terms, then three consecutive terms, aggregating 30 years of service. In a rural beat, a supervisor has been discussed, recused and cursed by every individual in his beat, and, occasionally, merits a word of praise from his constituents.

If experience means anything in the way of an asset to a man seeking office, Mr. Horton has experience in abundance.

The kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Horton to friends and neighbors, or even "strangers at the gate" is proverbial. They seem to have a home where all of the orphans of the family and all of the older ones are cared for. Their purse, their smokehouse and their corn crib are always open to worthy (and sometimes unworthy) persons.

Mr. Horton was honored by his fellow board members by being elected President of the Board during the term 1932-1936.

As stated it is not necessary to say more, for every man, woman and child, white and colored know Mr. Horton.

The promotion is well earned and deserved. The ability and fine work Sergeant Pittman has been doing while holding a key position has been recognized by the Group Commander.

Mrs. W. T. McKinley has returned from a trip to California. They certainly have been missing her at the Coffee Shop.

Joseph C. Grew Warns

Half-Effort Will Not Defeat Japan

By JOSEPH C. GREW

United States Ambassador to Japan until the outbreak of war, and author of "Report From Tokyo."

(Written for the Treasury Department in connection with the Retailers' "RAY YES" campaign to complete the nation's 100,000,000 partially filled War Stamp albums.)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In describing one of the big air battles over Guadalcanal a recent newspaper account tells of an American flyer who parachuted from his crippled plane to the waters of Lunga Bay. The Navy craft which picked him up next went to the rescue of a Japanese pilot seen struggling in the water nearby. As the rescue boat reached the Japanese flyer he suddenly pulled out his revolver, aimed it at the drenched American pilot and pulled the trigger. The cartridge failed to explode. Then the Japanese officer turned the gun on himself with suicidal intent. Again he pulled the trigger and again his revolver failed him. At this point an American sailor knocked him out with a boat hook and pulled him aboard the American craft a prisoner.

Almost daily one reads eye-witness stories such as this one, and all of them clearly demonstrate that war with our enemy in the Pacific cannot end in compromise.

For ten years I lived in Japan. The truth as I know it from close observation is this: Nothing less than the exertion of our maximum capacities, individually and collectively, in a war of offense will bring our beloved country safely to the longed-for haven of victorious peace.

The Japanese are pawns of a senseless but mighty militarism—a warrior caste which is ruthless and cruel beyond comprehension.

JOSEPH C. GREW
Says It's Fight to Finish

From the flood of eye witness accounts of atrocity and bestiality one fact shines clear. We must utterly crush that machine and caste and system. If, however, we Americans think that collectively and individually we can continue to lead our normal lives, leaving the spirit of self-sacrifice to our soldiers and sailors, we shall unquestionably run the risk of a stalemate with Japan. I do not have the slightest doubt of our eventual victory. But I do not wish to see the period of our blood, sweat and tears indefinitely and unnecessarily prolonged. We must not fail to realize that we are up against a powerful fighting machine, a people whose morale cannot be broken even by successive defeats and untold economic hardship, a people who gladly sacrifice their lives for their Emperor and their nation. We must also remember that Japan did not start this war without carefully laid military plans for victory over the United States and a peace dictated by their war lords at the White House.

This is a total war, the only answer to which is a total American victory. It is a war in which half measures of any kind mean incredible waste of material, energy and human life. In this sense a half-filled War Savings Stamp album is symbolic of a half effort. There are, I am told, roughly 100 million partially complete War Stamp albums now in circulation. These uncompleted Stamp albums are, in a measure, like a 100 million threats to a speedy and victorious peace. On the other hand, for every War Savings album completed and cashed in for a Bond, you the owner have helped some soldier or sailor take a forward step on the uphill road to total victory. U. S. Treasury Department

★ DRY BEANS ARE PLENTIFUL

At a time when so many foods are rationed or scarce, it is comforting to know that the old time favorite—dried beans—are plentiful. Dry beans are a good source of food energy and they do contain body-building protein. This protein, though not the same high quality as that of meat, still is of great value in preventing a protein shortage. Beans also rate high in Iron and the B Vitamins—riboflavin and thiamine.

There are dozens of ways to cook dried beans, but no matter how you cook them, never depend on them for a "hurry up" dish. Allow plenty of time to cook, and to save all the food value, cook beans in the water in which they soaked. Keep the heat low, simmer instead of boiling them. To save time cook a lot of beans at once and store them covered in your refrigerator. You can use the cooked beans in a lot of different ways.

Boston Baked Beans
1-1/2 pounds navy beans
1/2 pound salt pork
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
6 to 8 cups water
1/2 cup molasses
Soak the beans overnight. Drain. Cover with cold water. Boil gently for 1/2 hour. Drain. Save the water. Place slices of pork, 1/4 inch thick, in bottom of the bean pot or casserole, add beans, score pork and place it, scored side down, in the beans. Stir the salt, molasses, onion, and mustard into 2 cups of bean water and pour it over them; add enough more water to cover the beans. Bake in slow oven (350° F.) 6 to 7 hours, or bake at 325° F. for at least 4 hours, uncover during last hour. The longer, slower the cooking, the finer the flavor the baked beans will have. Makes 3 quarts.

Lima Bean Scallop
1-1/2 cups dried lima beans
4 cups water
2 teaspoons finely chopped onion
5 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1-3/4 cup milk
1 cup grated American Cheese
1/4 cup dry bread crumbs
Cook beans in salted water until tender (about 1 1/2 hours). Drain beans. Cook onion in 1 tablespoon butter. Mix with lima beans. Melt rest of butter. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Slowly add milk, and cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Add cheese and stir until cheese is melted. Put alternate layers of lima beans and cheese sauce in small greased casserole. Sprinkle with bread crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 20 to 30 minutes. Serves 4 generously. Garnish with parsley.

Editor's Note: Next week Miss IZARD will discuss the importance of cereals in wartime meals.

GOODY-WOODY

Mr. and Mrs. Willie W. Woodie are happy at last as they have had the satisfaction of marrying off their daughter, Miss Cant I. Woodie, to Mr. Samuel X. Goody, the ceremony having been performed by a J. P. in Beat Six and having been seen to final conclusion by Mr. Willie W. Woodie, with cocked shotgun, and his brother, Boddy, with an Owl Head pistol within easy reach.

Miss Woodie was dressed in a la mode and everything and was the center of much speculation. She worked a long while at the Solled Lamen Cafe where Mr. Goody first became enamored of her.

The groom, patently under the influence of some strong stimulant and looking anything but happy, mumbled "yes" in an undertone. He is a graduate of the old RFC, the CWA the FERA and the WPA.

PAIRTY AT CAMEL CORPS CLUB

The officers of the 216th Camel Corps put on a grand party at their luxurious tar papered club room last Tuesday night. Everything was relatively quiet until all of the liquor in their club had been consumed, but when a new supply was borrowed from another officers' club, the fun began.

A good many ladies, including some "of the evening," were present to enjoy the hilarious times that followed the opening of the new quarts. Dancing (or as one fellow, who had an ulcerated stomach and HAD to keep sober, said, "hugging to music") was enjoyed, until they began passing out. Lt. Col. James B. Bromedery, who had practiced on the most potent liquors of Cuba, Panama, Alaska, Pearl Harbor and Egyptian Sundaes, and was therefore immune to the innocuous stuff made here in America, was the last to fall, and he was able to crawl.

Next morning a special caravan was sent to the PX for aspirin and Bromo Seltzer.

Miss Ina Heflon certainly embarrassed her folks when she came home with a husband sans (French for without) marriage license.

Mrs. Nels M. Baconfield has decided to postpone her divorce from her husband, who has been running around scandalous with some WAAC's, until after the war, for Nels is going to be drafted in a few weeks and Mrs. Baconfield would miss out on the fifty bucks a month.

THE PALEOZOIC MEET

The Paleozoic Club met at the combined FSA and HOLC home of Mrs. H. B. Dain in its regular fortnightly meeting Monday afternoon for a musicale and a discussion of the problems of today.

Mrs. Yorick P. Hamlet sounded off with a long-winded prayer to the Lord, telling Him nothing that He did not already know.

Miss Season W. Garlie sang in her rocking soprano that delightful old melody, "If I Can Not Pat, I Will Pat Until The Patter Gets Here." Tantalizing applause followed her song, but it is believed that the applause was inspired by thanks that it was over, rather than from appreciation.

Mr. Boney Kneea read a paper "How to Hear Children" which nobody paid any attention to.

The high spot was a round table discussion, "Is Nestling or Cuddling the Better." Several old maid seemed to know more about both subjects than the married women. A row almost broke out when one member introduced the subject of necking and insisted that necking was better than either. The chairman finally restored order by insisting that the necker was out of order.

A song, "I'll Jitter with You to Jerusalem," by Mrs. Daudino when, trying to illustrate on a tea table, the table and a bunch of 10c store cups and saucers were broken.

Benediction, telling the Lord some things that Mrs. Hamlet had forgotten, was said by Mrs. I. Wanta B. Pious.

The talk about the solled window curtains, the ashes swept into the corners and the coldness of the room started when the guests were out of earshot of the hostess.

THE MEOW CAT CLUB MEETS

The Meow (Sent) Cat Club met at the home of its president, Mrs. Betty Beem, recently for several tables of bridge. The lovely living room was gaily festooned with old coffee cans and old sugar sacks, reminiscent of the good old days, and some paper flowers bought from the blind beggar gaily decorated the mantle.

Except for the time Mrs. Daudino's ace was trumped by her partner and she almost echoed the words that her husband had used when he got up the night before to change the baby, everything was lovely.

After some heated discussion, Mrs. Bettam Shiff was ruled out of the compilation for adding the year, 1942 to her score, and it was determined that Mrs. Trumpa Trick, who has a penchant for peeping, had won high score prize, a bottle of Hoyt's which the hostess had received Christmas 1941, and Mrs. Noodle Dramer received consolation, a pair of two-bit unmentionables from the Bargain Basement.

Some hellacious weak tea, with some skimpy ginger shape (estimated later by a guest to have cost 34 cents) were served, after which the happy party dispersed with fingers crossed.

L. O. E. CLUB MEETS NEXT TUESDAY

The Ladies of the Evening Club will meet, according to information received by your Society Editor, next Tuesday afternoon at the trailer of Miss (V) Wotta Fanny where fado practices will be discussed. All ladies of the evening, whether members of the local union or not are invited. Bring your own Refreshments. Drink water from the pump, said the president, Mr. Leopatra DuBarr.

DON'T DO ANY COUNTING

A fine little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jessup P. Sooner on February 21st. They were married last September. No counting please.

Colonel Garret P. Eagles is expecting his real wife here in a few days and is looking for another apartment. Some folks think he should be called Solomon. Help solve his domestic problem.

Somebody whose name will be kept anonymous, wrote to the Society Editor, "What will we do if we have TWO fires in Grenada at the SAME time" to which the Society Editor facetiously replied, "Dumfno."

Mrs. Hello Thare, who forgot to bring a rubber blanket, and little son, Weternehl, recently visited her sister in Grenada, and laundry service being what it is, almost bankrupted the sister who had to buy so many new sheets.

Pr. I. Q. Nil has been visiting his parents, the Nile family of Skeeter street, but was wearing Technical Sergeant's stripes which he bought in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Gadabout were enjoying a quiet evening at home Sunday night, listening to the G. E. Hour, when there was a rap on the door. Mrs. Gadabout screamed "That's my husband," while Mr. Gadabout jumped through the window, taking the sash with him.

Fortunately the colored maids of Grenada are like the Three Monkeys "See Nothing," "Hear Nothing," "Say Nothing." It is also fortunate that your society editor is the same way.

SOCIETY EDITOR'S NOTE: any similarity of names used in this column to persons, living or in Hell, is purely coincidental.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this opportunity to thank our many friends and neighbors for the many manifestations of friendship for our dear husband and father during his illness and at his death and burial.

These Three Must Not Be Overlooked

In our mad scramble for money from the soldiers at Camp McCain, we must not forget two sure backlogs to our economic life, viz: Grenada Industries, and the home people; and one probable backlog, the Grenada Army Air Base.

At the present time, the money flowing into the channels of trade from Camp McCain military personnel and from the contractors there may easily make us forget Grenada Industries, Inc., which, a few years ago, gave to business in Grenada the greatest stimulus it ever had. At the present time this industry is engaged in vital war production, details of which necessarily not be published. Certainly the money poured into the blood stream of Grenada business by this industry at the present time far exceeds the fondest hope of any of us who lent our aid in getting it here. Grenada Industries will be here providing monetary ammunition to use against the "wolf at the door" when the termites shall have completed their work of destruction at Camp McCain. Their employees performing work just as necessary as the work of the soldiers, cannot sleep in the street, but must have living quarters; and, while I may be misunderstood in the matter, I cannot but say that workers in this vital industry which is helping provide ammunition for the soldiers, SHOULD have superior claim on available living quarters over and above wives of soldiers, many of whom contribute nothing to the war effort in this well-named TOTAL war. FIRST things MUST come FIRST, and the FIRST thing is winning the war, however much a soldier and his wife wish to be together—a perfectly natural desire, of course, as I can say from my own experience in the last war. Grenada can get a fine example of this—putting first things first by recent rulings of the big shots in the Selective Service organization, which says to the UNMARRIED man engaged in vital work, "Stay at your lair (or forge, or bench)", and to the MARRIED FATHER who engaged in non-essential work, "Get in the army, bud. You can serve your country better there than in jerking soda, or running a saloon, or manufacturing perfume." Harsh as it may sound, it is my considered opinion that, when a decision is to be made between sharing our limited living quarters with a soldier's wife or a worker in a vital industry, the decision should be made in favor of him or her who is helping bear the terrible load imposed upon us and upon our allies by the Three Horsemen, Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito.

Business men should not forget Grenada Army Air Base, however inferior in numbers the personnel there will be, for the simple, but selfish reason that Grenada Army Air Base, with its thick and wide runways and with its immense hangars, will most likely be a permanent asset to this community and will be pouring money into the blood stream of business here long after the bats and owls are deprived of their shelter in the shacks at Camp McCain by the termites.

Business men here should not forget the folks on Main and Cherry and South and Govan and Fairfield, nor the people at Peariside, Holcomb, Gore Springs, and Providence, for these are the people from whom business here obtained its start, and from whose toll Grenada must depend when the war is over.

Let's put first things first.

Why Not Some Housing For Grenada

The following news article contained in the Jackson Daily News on Saturday last is bound to make some of the homeless people waiting vainly from house to house in Grenada, wish that they were stationed at Camp Van Dorn:

Centerville, which was a normal population of 1,100 is to get 300 to 400 unit housing project to relieve the critical housing conditions brought on by the influx of workers to Camp Van Dorn.

This project, which will be large enough to house the entire town in post war years, will cost more than $1,000,000 it is estimated.

The site of the housing project will be on the highway between Centerville and Camp Van Dorn and the housing units for the present will be used by civilian war workers.

The units, to be of concrete and brick, will be erected by the Federal Public Housing Agency and operated by the Housing Authority already set up at McComb, where another project is now operating.

Centerville's housing situation cannot be worse than the housing condition in Grenada.

A Grenada lady just recently told me that her son and his wife, stationed at Camp Beauregard, had rented a recently-constructed government home—with lights, water and gas—for $30.00 a month.

If other communities get MUCH help, Grenada should be able to get at least a LITTLE help in relieving the housing situation which daily is growing more acute.

Hay Is Getting High In Grenada

I have before me a copy of the City Minutes showing the warrants made out for December expenses.

One payment attracted my attention very particularly for I used to sell hundreds of tons of hay. The line is quoted verbatim, "Elmer Mitchell 2 bales of hay $27.00."

I imagine this is a typographical error, of which we make thousands in the course of a year, but this is being written merely to show that we are not the only ones who make mistakes.

Personal to Mike Conner: get out of the comfortable chair in your office in the Tower Building and begin mingling and mixing and shaking hands and mending fences. If you sit there in 1943 as long as you sat there in 1939, your name is Dennis (or maybe the proper way to say it is, the next governor's name is Dennis).

I think I will quit the USO and join the WPA if the latter will accept me, which I doubt.

Night-Mares

(Due to cold feet)

Ma Whitaker was out of town,
And Pa was sufferin' from cold feet.
He tried to pull his night-shirt down,
But the edges failed to meet.

The situation left him cold,
But he finally went to sleep.
The dreams came on in accents bold,
For out-of-door was frigid sleep.

The night-mares came and took the lead,
Pa was an alderman once more!
The City Council had decreed
There simply weren't no need

To have the folks all votin'
For a city marshal.
Every member of the board
Was quite impartial.

The thing imperative was speed,
As in the days of yore,
Pa leaped up and took the floor.
The floor-boards seemed to vanish more and more.

Pa looked around
And there was Marvin Bryant at the door.
"The RAT-DEN and the BARWIN,
Both on fire, your Honor!"

"Oh Lord, said Pa,
Just let the BARWIN go,
But spare the RAT-DEN, for you know
I've got to boost Mike Conner!"

NOTE: These are two little items that Editor Whitaker might well dream about. They are much on his heart. First, the city does need some extra fire equipment before we happen to have two fires at the same time. Second, many of the poor "common-herd" voters would like to have some say-so in the election of the city marshal.

—Lady Byron.

(The RAT-DEN is, of course, that palace of wisdom, from whence comes forth the GOW.)

Mistreated Soldiers?

Several times I have been approached with the suggestion that I have something to say of the mistreatment of the soldiers by Grenada people, and invariably I reply that, so far as I know the soldiers are treated well here in Grenada. There may be isolated instances where a soldier has been mistreated, but, to my knowledge, nothing like this has happened.

Grenada, already overcrowded when the army of workmen and the greater army of soldiers came here, has, in my opinion, done nobly.

Homes never before opened for the reception of roomers have been opened, often at considerable inconvenience, and certainly to the extinction of privacy in our "castles."

The churches, whose interior arrangements permit, all have opened up reception rooms for the soldiers. Volunteer ladies of Grenada worked cheerfully and well in pinching for the yet homeless USO.

Many young ladies who certainly obtained no pleasure from being dragged around the dance floor with amateur soldier dancers have patriotically attended many dances which they really did not want to attend.

Mrs. Alexander with little financial help, if any financial help, established the Crow's Nest and organized the Military Maids, who properly chaperoned provide dancing partners for various dances for the soldiers.

Mr. Rundle, the superintendent of our city schools, went to all manner of trouble and tramped through miles of red tape in assuring the receipt of additional funds, if they were necessary, to provide more school facilities for children of the soldiers.

I am sure my wife and I are no exceptions to the rule when we are always courteous to EVERY man in uniform who comes to our place, and when we give all possible help to them in TRYING to secure non-existent quarters, when we give such information as we possess about every conceivable subject and when we have opened our home for soldiers wives who otherwise might have to spend the night in a car, the bus station or depot—all at great loss of time from our own business.

If soldiers were treated badly by Grenada civilians, certainly I, moving about as much as I do, and hearing all kinds of rumors, would have seen or heard of ONE such instance—which I have not.

Grenada is doing the best it can with a most difficult problem.

Weekly Newspapers Made The Goats

Three candidates have announced for Governor: Tom Bailey and Mike Conner last week, and Lester Franklin this week.

Each of them placed his announcement in the hands of the daily papers on Sunday before the Thursday or Friday that the weekly papers are published—giving the relatively few dailies from four or five days "start."

Anyone familiar with the situation knows that the weekly newspaper, entering as they do into the most remote sections of the state, are read closer and have closer contact with the voters than do the daily newspapers.

I receive a large number of weekly newspapers published in the state. Last week, I did not note that a SINGLE ONE of them carried the full announcement of Messrs. Bailey and Conner. This leads me to believe that the country press is awakening to the fact that, if the candidates elect to slight the weekly press, the weekly press can in turn convert "releases" long out of date into material to light, he kindling in the pot-bellied office stoves.

Then too, after all these years, and after repeated editorials from the Grenada County Weekly, the weekly newspapers are getting sore about all printing from state candidates being done by the few large printers who can use the Union Label.

My prediction is that, due to the two discriminations outlined above, the state candidates are going to have a hard time getting anything free from the country newspapers.

P. S. After all my editorializing, I have at last got a bite from a man whom I have never yet supported. Lester Franklin, who writes, "Sometime during the campaign I shall endeavor to see that my Manager gives you some printing." Maybe I have been misguided all these years about Lester.

Remember folks, the termites cannot destroy the runways at Grenada Army Air Base. A

Prompt Action By Bus Company

Week before last we published an editorial about the bus transportation between here and Camp McCain and between here and the Grenada Army Air Base. A copy was sent to Mr. Johnson of Shreveport, the president of the company; another copy to Mr. Randall, superintendent of operation in this State.

Mr. Randall made a special trip to see me and to explain what the company was doing and what it proposed to do to relieve the situation and stated, perhaps facetiously, that Mr. Johnson raised hell with him. The essence of what Mr. Randall told me is contained in a letter which is published elsewhere in this issue under "Letters to the Editor."

The Tri-States Transit Company has always done a good job, and, we are happy to note that, after having its deficiencies in service called to its attention by the GOW, it will greatly improve local service between Grenada and the camps.

An Investigation Needed

Twenty-four desperate criminals have escaped from the State Penitentiary at Parchman since the middle of January: six in January and 18 a few days ago. In the latter bunch were some of those who had previously escaped.

With this record, it is high time that some thorough investigations be made of the system that will permit wholesale escapes of men from the penitentiary. I cannot but agree with the editor of the Commercial Appeal in saying that the officials there seem to take more pride in production of cotton than in the protection of the public from fleeing prisoners.

The capture of the few of the prisoners who have been captured has required the time and energy of hundreds of law-abiding citizens, not only of Mississippi but of adjoining states—time and energy that should have been devoted to routine matters.

Mr. Love, whom I do not know, is the head of the state penitentiary, and, therefore, Mr. Love is the man who is responsible for the safekeeping of prisoners there, and is also responsible for the frequent escape. Not that he personally permitted them to escape, of course, but that he has not surrounded himself with competent aides working under the proper system.

What's Happened To The Cold Storage?

Within the past three days each of two brothers told me that he had made a trip to Charleston to get his hog meat from the storage and curing plant there.

The question immediately arose in my mind, what has happened to the Grenada County cold storage plant, a plant in which Grenada County has considerable investment?

I may be misinformed (and, if so, I wish to be corrected) but I understand that, notwithstanding the fact that the Grenada County Cold Storage plant has thousands of dollars of money invested in refrigeration and curing equipment, not a pound of meat is in the building for processing; but that the building is being used as warehouse for the storage and sale of seed and fertilizer, and for the cold storage of eggs.

If Grenada County farmers own a meat curing plant and at the same time have to take their meat to Charleston or elsewhere to be cured and stored, is it high time that the Board of Supervisors looks into the matter and sees that the building, for which they at least furnished a suitable and expensive lot, is used for the purposes for which it was built.

Grenada has had several fires recently, but, fortunately, not TWO fires at the SAME time.

CEREALS TO THE RESCUE

Among foods that are plentiful today are those of the cereal family, so it will pay homemakers who think of cereals as ready-to-eat and quick-cooking foods that come in neat packages to get acquainted with the rest of the family. This group of foods really includes such grains as wheat, oats, corn, rye, barley, buckwheat, and rice; the meals and flours are made from these grains.

MISS IZARD as well as the pastes such as macaroni, spaghetti and noodles, and the corn products—hominy and grits. Cereals are another of those foods that "stick-to-the-ribs." They are good fuel foods, too, and help supply heat and energy to the body. The whole grain cereals are good sources of Vitamin B, and minerals. Some of these nutrients are lost when cereals are refined but today many of them have those values restored and are known as Enriched cereals. The best buys in cereals then are whole grain and Enriched.

Four cereals should be included among your food staples for good nutrition—oatmeal, whole wheat, yellow corn meal, and brown rice. Use oatmeal for a hearty breakfast dish. Use it, too, in meat loaf, in bread and in cookies. Since you live in Mississippi, you have corn-bread often, but try dipping chicken in cornmeal before frying it. Serve spoon bread and other special corn meal dishes.

Oatmeal Molasses Bread

(Makes 3 loaves)

3 cups uncooked oatmeal

3/4 cup molasses

2 tablespoons shortening

2 teaspoons salt

1 quart boiling water

1 cake yeast, softened in 1/4

cup lukewarm water

11 Cups Flour

Place Oats, molasses, shortening, and salt in large mixing bowl. Add boiling water and let stand 1 hour. Then add yeast which has been softened in 1/4 cup lukewarm water, and beat in the flour. When dough becomes too stiff to handle with a spoon, grease hands thoroughly, and knead the remaining flour into the dough by hand. Knead until dough is well mixed and smooth. Shape into loaves, and place in greased bread loaf pans. (The dough is soft and sticky, but can be easily handled if the hands are well greased.) Let rise in a warm place until double in bulk (about 1 1/2 hours). Bake 16 minutes in a hot oven (425°), then reduce heat to (375°) and bake about 40 minutes longer. Turn onto wire rack to cool, and brush loaves with butter.

Editor's Note: Next week Miss Iward will present tempting recipes for delicious Homemade Mixes.

The Home Front

Actual rationing of commercially canned fruits and vegetables will begin March 1. The rationed items include canned soups, juices and bottled fruit and vegetables. Home-canned foods don't come under the program.

None of these foods will be sold for a week before "point" rationing. During that week, everyone will have to register, according to present OPA plans.

The present coffee stamp reduces our Java ration from one pound every five weeks to one pound every six.

SOME 3-A MEN WILL GO

Dependents won't keep men out of the army after April 1. The War Manpower Commission has listed as "non-newsboys," waiters, most male servants. These include 3-A bartenders, newsboys, waiters, most male servants and a few others. Men who have personal doubts can find out where they stand from the local draft board.

WMC said that most men who are deferred because of their jobs are making a more valuable contribution to the war effort, right now, than they would in uniform. It urged non-deferables to get into more essential occupations.

LESS TRAFFIC

Compared with a year ago, traffic on country roads is off nearly 50 percent. The drop is nearly the same in newly-rationed states as in the states where pleasure driving has been banned.

OPA says every slaughterer who sells beef is required to make application for Government grading, and that this will improve the value received when Southern housewives buy it.

GREATER COTTON DEMAND

Cotton mills have been urged to increase their production this year.

Despite rumors to the contrary, it now looks as though circuses and carnivals will be permitted to operate during the coming season. Much of equipment owned by them is suitable for conversion to war uses. Traveling shows, however, won't be eligible for tires, and those that move by rail will have to take their chances about schedules.

NO KENTUCKY DERBY

ODT has said that "it would be better if the Kentucky Derby were not run this year."

Vehicles with "T" stickers or certificates of necessity may get credit at gas stations, but regulations now prohibit most of us from charging gas when we buy it for our cars.

Holders of "B" and "C" cards may renew them by writing the local ration board.

WESLEYAN SERVICE CLUB GUILD MET ON MONDAY

The Wesleyan Service Guild met on February 15, in the Men's Rifle Classroom of the Education Building. For the first time the Guild served supper to its members, with Miss Lucile Pierce and Miss Fay Jordan acting as co-hostesses. This experiment proved to be a real success.

After supper a short business meeting was conducted by the President, Mrs. R. F. Matthews. The Guild accepted the responsibility of entertaining the soldiers in the Den on Sunday, February 22.

Miss Jordan presented a short worship service, which was followed by a discussion of "What can we do to promote lasting peace?" Miss Lizzi Horn led the group to think in terms of collective action. She stressed the importance of Christian thinking and acting cooperatively toward the security of the world rather than along more restricted lines. An understanding of the importance of a world organization and the part the United States working toward Christian ideals will play in such an organization, must be reached by those who profess themselves to be Christians.

Miss Willene Smith discussed the individual's responsibility in the issue of peace that is being brought to the attention of the Gulf. The necessity for each person to do that he belongs to that is as important in the building of peace that is lasting as any one else. In many instances this feeling does not exist. It is in minority groups. In the South the most important of these is the Negro. In this task of educating everyone to a sense of responsibility, women's organizations must take a leading part. ## CAMP MCCAIN NEWS

Your correspondent is back again after a long vacation, and tried to get your favorite pinch-hitter to pinch-hit again this week, but she flatly refused. (A correspondent's life, you can see from that unkind gesture, is certainly not an easy, free from worry one.)

I just got back yesterday, and as I don't know what has been going on here. There was a good dance, I hear from the girls, out at Service Club No. 2 this Tuesday night. Well attended by the Military Maids, and enjoyed by all. Those are all the details that I am definitely sure about, but I know that there will be a full account later somewhere in this paper.

Saw the Air Support Command Base called sometimes Grenada Air Base, and often Troop Carrier Command Base, from the train window yesterday, and they are certainly completing it rapidly. The hanger, already painted and complete except for the planes, gives an air of permanence to the Base.

There were a lot of soldiers and several officers coming to Camp McCain on the same train. One strange officer bought a round trip ticket to Grenada from Memphis. He must be rather pessimistic about his length of station here, or else just came down to look it over.

The old I. C. in Memphis was full of soldiers going everywhere. They all seemed very young, enthusiastic, and full of fun, and enjoyed even the wait in the station. About ninety percent of the travelers on the New York train were soldiers and sailors on furloughs and changing stations after furloughs. Talked to a couple of lads who had been blown off the Northampton. They were young boys from Arkansas, and been home on a leave, and were going back to a new ship, and were just as full of fight and pluck as ever. They would rather talk about the bright lights of Frisco and the good flicker (spelling approved by the editor of this Weekly) than their courageous part in this war, but they did talk about the sinking of their ship, and how they were picked up, the most of them, after about an hour and a half in the water. The rescue was immediate and effective. The rest who couldn't be located that night were gleaned from the sea early the next morning. One boy wanted to run up to the Capitol during our short wait-over in Washington, for he said that it symbolized to him what we were fighting for. Although the building was dark, and you had to go right up to the front to see it, I think that it looked more impressive that night, to me than it has ever looked before. The sailor, whose name and rank of course I won't say, walked up to the faintly white steps, and just stood there in silence looking up at the frieze. The Sergeant and I who had taken him up there were quiet too. That moment of silent appreciation was worth the running that we had to do to get up there before that train left.

Now to get back to our own camp here.

The J. A. Jones lost a couple of more people.

One, Miss Sarah Smith left last Friday to accept a job in Washington. She's going to find it crowded there, you even share taxis, red caps, and your table at restaurants.

Mr. J. P. King left this Saturday to work for the Jones people in Hoffman, N. C. He will keep his same job in the payroll department.

All of the friends of Mr. C. A. Moore, who was on this job so efficiently last summer and early fall had a nervous breakdown, and is now at home in Jackson recuperating. He was working for Jones at Greensboro, N. C.

Talking about the project at Hoffman, N. C. the report is that all the buildings are up but not complete.

For this remarkable feat, and for all the war construction work in general on all the projects, including the one here at Camp McCain, the J. A. Jones Construction Company is going to be awarded the Army and Navy E, which you all know is for Efficiency Major General Reynolds, Chief of Engineers, is coming down to Hoffman on March 8th to make the award.

You all know that Bobbie Moor, popular Architect from Greenwood, is at home now, having finished his job here. He is planning to go in the Navy soon.

Now that so many of the bright lights of all the companies have gone, gossip is getting scarcer and we have to get right down and dig.

Since Hazel has left, Doc is hard to get in a corner, and very hard to keep track of.

We have a little gossip about Elizabeth Oakley, and how she had a couple of things to do the same night, and the time she had, not it isn't fair to give the names and dates.

Miss Mary E. Fuller is back on the job in Jones' payroll department after having been ill at home for about a week. It is rumored that that diamond on her left finger is soon to have a plain little band for company, and a very handsome soldier is going to be mighty happy.

The soldiers out at camp are all a little glad that Western Electric boy has left town, for now the very popular Miss Margerite Finney can now

A HORRIBLE DREAM

One night not so long ago I had a dream and when I awoke I decided to do everything possible to keep it from coming true. It seemed that I was one of many stockholders who owned shares in the greatest country in the whole wide world and some powerful savages had waged war upon my country and intended to take away my liberty and my right to live my life free from fear and slavery.

I WAS THOUGHTLESS

Yes the officers we elected to run our country had to take steps to supply our fighting men with the necessary food and did not have time to consult all of us stockholders as to our wishes, but as the case with all big companies, the officers have the right to operate to the best interest of all stockholders instead of a few.

I had been griping because of a few restrictions which were very necessary to win our war.

I AWOKE IN TIME

Yes I am thankful I awoke in time. I remembered my boy having to swim in the Coral Sea and the other boys in the Fox Holes and right then I made up my mind that this was my war and I was going to do everything in my power to win it and keep my country free for those who will follow me.

Our Man Mike Conner Announces For Governor

"When the campaign of 1939 was over, it left me without one trace of bitterness. Through necessity, I turned away from politics and political considerations, and devoted myself to the task of recouping business losses and providing for my family and for the future. I put aside every thought of public office.

"But I can never put aside the thought of public duty and public responsibility. I owe a debt of gratitude to Mississippi and her people. I can never fully repay. They have been good to me beyond my just deserts.

"Many men and women from all walks of life have visited me and written me to suggest and ask that I enter the race for governor. I have been impressed with the fact that throughout these requests and suggestions there runs a thread and note of apprehension for the future of our state and people.

"The number has been too large to permit me to make a personal reply to each one. I therefore, by this means, want to assure each and all of these friends, both new and old, that I am deeply touched by and am profoundly grateful for this kindly manifestation of their confidence and good will. I want them to know that I feel honored, deeply honored, by their action.

"There have been few concrete suggestions of policy or action. Mainly the thought has been the need of progressive conservation, of devotion to first principles, of greater belief in the faith of our fathers, of a return to stricter conceptions of constitutional government, particularly of a higher regard for the division of authority and responsibility unto the legislative, executive and judicial departments of government.

"The line of suggestion and reasoning as to the future, and as to the general good of the state, which has been presented to me, has appealed strongly to the reactions and reflections of my own mind. Accordingly, upon mature consideration, I have determined that at the proper time I will ask the people to extend to me the honor and privilege of serving them as their governor for the term beginning

Thank God We Don't Need Your Son

You say your son can't stand the Army. And that the going is too tough for him. Do you think he is any better than some other mother's Tom or Tim?

You raised your son like a girl; "He never smokes or drinks" is your brag. Well, if all our boys were like that, what do you think would become of our flag?

You say let the roughnecks do the fighting; They are used to the beans and the stew. Well I'm glad to be classed with the roughnecks. Who would fight for the Red, White and Blue.

You said his girl just couldn't stand it. To send him away with the rest. Do you think for a minute she'd enjoy To feel a Jap's breath on her breast?

We go to drill in bad weather. And come in with a smile on our face. While your darling son sits in the parlor. And lets another man fight in his place.

Maybe we do drink, smoke and gamble. But we fight as our forefathers did. So go warm the milk for his bottle. Thank God we don't need your kid.

MR. JOHN G. HOVIS DIED FEBRUARY 8TH

Mr. John Gadsden Hovis, a resident of Grenada County for some 33 years, died February 8th, 1943 at 11:30 p. m. He was born March 20, 1871. He was married to Miss Carrie Ada McCulla the 3rd Sunday in May, 1908. To this union was born five children, Mrs. Besie Hale, of Philadelphia, Miss. Mr. Claude Hovis, who is in the armed service in Africa, Mr. Clyde Hovis, who is in the Navy in Alaska, and Mrs. Wilma Sanders and Mrs. Frances Grantham, both of Mobile, Illinois. Funeral services were held at Spring Hill Church February 9, 1943 at 3 o'clock.—Contributed.

In January, 1944.

"During this period of trial, which for so many of the mothers and fathers of our state and nation is a period of agony also, it would be unseemly to prosecute the usual political campaign. I shall, therefore, content myself with this simple announcement of my proposed candidacy, until such time as it may seem fitting and proper for me to say more.

"In this hour of crisis, personal ambitions have no place. The first business of us all is to win the war for freedom, and then to win the fight for reconstruction. In the approaching campaign I want the support of all men and women, regardless of past political views and affiliations, who believe they are promoting the welfare of the people by supporting my candidacy for governor."

THE HOME FRONT

No industries have a peculiarly privileged status where a man may be safe from the draft, says the War Manpower Commission.

It seems that a few exorbitant individuals, hearing that married men will be subject to the draft, started to leave their jobs last week and look for positions which they thought would keep them out of uniform. This is foolish. Just because a plant is working on war contracts is no sign that every man working in it will be deferred, War Manpower points out. Men should stick to their jobs, not look for ways to keep from being drafted.

MANY CIVILIANS NECESSARY

Recognized work, from farming to junk collecting, is necessary to keep us on an even keel for victory. Retail businesses and all the countless services of civilian supply must be kept alive, for making ships or ammunition isn't the only type of job needed in a way economy. A vigorous Home Front is essential, too.

We're going to need lots of fighting men, of course. . . 12,000 a day will be inducted this year. That's more per day than all the soldiers George Washington had at Valley Forge during the bitter winter of 1777-78.

WAR JOBS OPEN

Both men and women who aren't doing serious work are urged to contact a local U. S. Employment office and get a war job.

There are about 200 million pairs of new shoes in the country. Shoes are being rationed while there are still enough for everyone. Stamp 17 entitles any member of the family to buy a pair, either in a store or from a mail-order house.

WATCH ON THE TIME

Got a railroad watch? An acute shortage of exact time pieces has prompted WFB to ask folks who don't need theirs to sell them for war use. Any jeweler can furnish details. Some new alarm clocks are being made now and will be on the market in April.

In 1942 more wool went to the armed forces than the entire country had ever consumed in a single year.

OPA now permits increases of three cents a quart in peach wines.

NO EXTRA LIQUOR

Stories that distilleries would be allowed to make some alcoholic beverages are unfounded. The entire distilling industry is at work making alcohol to be used for smokeless power, synthetic rubber and war chemicals. More farm machinery and equipment will be produced soon.

HOW TO GET DISCHARGED

Army requirements for a release say that a man must: Be at least 33 years old. Show that he has a job waiting for him in agriculture or essential war work. Request a discharge from his commanding officer, and his release must not impair the efficiency of his Army unit.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL BRIDGE OVER YALOBUSHA RIVER—GRENADA, MISS.

The Illinois Central Railroad has started the construction of a new bridge over the Yalobussha River at Grenada. This bridge will replace the present structure with one fully adequate to meet the demands of present-day railroad operation. The new bridge will be built on an offset line 3.3 feet down stream from the present bridge. In this manner, considerable saving will be made in the cost, and in addition, there will be no interference with railroad traffic, which, on account of our war effort, is particularly heavy at this time. The construction work will also be carried out without any interference by trains. The complete bridge and new line will be constructed, except for a short connection at each end, and when the new bridge is ready, with track laid thereon, a connection to the present line will be made at each end and traffic diverted over the new structure. After this is done, the old line and bridge can then be removed with no interference to traffic.

It is expected that the railroad company will spend approximately $180,000 on this project. The contractor has already started work on the construction of the concrete piers which will carry the new steel spans. It is expected that the concrete piers will be completed in the early spring, but it is not known when the structure will be completed ready for railroad traffic, as the delivery of the steel is dependent upon the need for steel in the war effort.

The history of the railroad bridge across the Yalobussha River is an interesting one, as it is intimately connected with the early railroad history of Mississippi and Grenada, and has been affected by events which influenced the lives of Grenada residents.

In 1852, the Mississippi Central Railroad Company was incorporated in the State of Mississippi, with authority to construct a railroad from Canton to the northern boundary of the State. The work was started in 1852 and completed late in 1859 or 1860. The records indicate that a bridge was built across the Yalobussha River in 1857, and the present brick piers supporting the steel spans were a part of this original structure.

In 1932 and 1933, the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad Company was incorporated in the States of Mississippi and Tennessee, respectively. This company constructed a railroad from Memphis to Grenada, and it was completed in 1857. This railroad built a bridge across the Yalobussha River about 500 feet downstream from the present bridge and one of the old piers is still standing. The bridges for both railroads had timber trusses on brick piers over the main channel. These bridges were destroyed during the war between the States and it was not until 1865 that attempts were made to rebuild a crossing over the Yalobussha River. At that time, the two railroads agreed to use the same bridge across the river, and the new structure was built on the present location by using timber truss spans on the old brick piers. This work was done by the Mississippi Central Railroad Company and the Tennessee Railroad Company bore 90 percent of the expense and at that time, the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad Company made a connection with the Mississippi Central Railroad Company at what is now known as Memphis Junction, located about three quarters of a mile north of the River. The original Mississippi Central line became a part of the Illinois Central Railroad in 1882, and the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad, in 1889. Before this happened, however, the old timber trusses of the bridge were destroyed by fire in 1872 and the bridge was eventually rebuilt with the first metal spans of wrought and cast iron, consisting of one 102 ft. span and three 122 ft. spans.

In 1888, the wrought and cast iron spans were replaced by the present steel bridge. The old brick piers were reused in each rebuilding of the structure, so that that are now 80 years old and the present steel has been in service, 55 years.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Russ Trap German Army in Caucasus; March 15 Remains Tax Deadline as Congress Plans Pay-as-You-Go Later; Labor Demands Increased Wage Scale

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

WAGES & PRICES: Labor Looks Upward

Organized labor's clash with the government over wage controls drew disquietingly closer as the American Federation of Labor, the CIO and John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers made known their stand.

Conferring at the White House, William Green, AFL president, and Phillip Murray, CIO chief, protested to President Roosevelt that the cost of living was "getting out of bounds" and said that there was increasing dissatisfaction among labor's rank and file.

Previously, bushy-browed Lewis had announced a demand for a $3 a day pay increase in the bituminous coal industry, effective April 1.

The impending crisis in wage control was further emphasized when the War Labor board beset by increasing demands for pay increases asked Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes whether the "Little Steel" wage ceiling formula should be revised upward. This yardstick which has been applied to numerous industries allowed the WLB to grant wage increases of 15 per cent above the levels of January 1, 1941, and was designed to match rising living costs between that date and May 1, 1942.

This problem was dropped in Mr. Byrnes' lap, because any upward wage revision would have consumer repercussions and jeopardize the administration's entire wage stabilization and price pegging program.

INCOME TAX:

March 15 Still Deadline

Neither the Ruml plan to "forgive" all taxes on 1942 income, nor the U. S. treasury department's proposal to double up collections of both 1942 and 1943 taxes will be adopted, members of the house ways and means committee definitely indicated.

One fact appeared certain. Forty-four million American taxpayers will be compelled to file income tax returns by the March 15 deadline, on the basis of 1942 income.

A pay-as-you-go withholding tax procedure will be set up later. Most observers predicted July 1 as the date. This apparently would be a compromise measure embodying some but not all of the Ruml proposals and the treasury's recommendations.

FARM LABOR:

Army to Help?

Many a Washington official has lain awake nights trying to find a solution for the critical farm labor shortage.

Latest suggestion for relieving the shortage is to apply a method used by Union and Confederate armies in the Civil war—furlough soldiers with farm experience to help with harvests and other seasonal farm jobs.

Observers believed that creation of this farm army would be undertaken jointly by the war department and the War Manpower commission and the department of agriculture. It was estimated that 500,000 soldiers might be detailed for this needed task.

Alternately under consideration by top manpower authorities was a proposal to utilize battalions of army men still on military assignment for farm work.

NAZI TWILIGHT: Darkened by Russ

While the strains of Wagner's funeral Gotterdammerung on Berlin radios had proclaimed to the Reich the melancholy tidings of Nazi disaster at Stalingrad, this requiem was regarded by many observers as only a prelude to more woeful news ahead.

For it had become increasingly clear that the German retreat in Russia had long since passed the stage of an orderly withdrawal and had reached the proportions of a rout in many places. Relentlessly the Russians had built up their offensive's momentum, smashing into the Ukraine, narrowing the circle around Rostov and threatening Hitler's harassed Caucasus forces with a Black sea Dunkirk at Novorossiisk.

Matter-of-fact Soviet communiques told the story of German reverses. These included the recapture by Red troops of Zolotukhino, only 22 miles above Kursk on the Kursk-Orel railroad, thus cutting the main Nazi supply line to the north; the recapture of Kupyansk and with it the control of an entire rail network; and the seizure of Kuchevskaya, below Rostov on the Rostov-Baku railway, the biggest system in the Caucasus.

The loss of Kuchevskaya was particularly bitter to the Nazis. Russ possession of this city which commands a railroad spur leading to the Black sea, threatened to isolate huge German forces already under attack at Novorossiisk, the large Nazi-held port on that sea. It had been believed Hitler would try to use Novorossiisk for the evacuation of his Caucasian army if the Russians were regained by the Russians.

SOLOMONS:

Nipponese Persistent

Only occasionally during the latest air-sea battle between American forces and their Jap enemies for control of the southern Solomons was the curtain of official secrecy raised. First American reports were necessarily noncommittal to keep useful information from the enemy.

The Japs used a "reverse English" technique in reporting the battle. This consisted of radio announcements telling of overwhelming American naval superiority in the Guadalcanal area, of the presence of 10 American warships and 10 aircraft carriers. By employing such fantastic figures, observers believed the Jap high command was preparing the public back home for bad news.

MERCHANT SEAMEN:

Heroism Unparalleled

The heroic part America's 70,000 merchant seamen have played in the front line of combat on the high seas was dramatized by a report issued by Rear Admiral Emory S. Land of the War Shipping administration which disclosed that the percentage of losses in personnel due to Axis U-boats and bombers was three times as great as that of the U. S. armed forces in the first year of the war.

Numerically, losses of merchant sailors totaled 3,200 including dead and missing, or 3.8 per cent of the total during the war's first year. U. S. armed forces' losses were 1 per cent in this period.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

CHICAGO: Paying its quarterly dividends in war bonds, stamps or cash in the novel method the Belden Manufacturing company is following to help promote the treasury department's drive. Since Whipple Jacobs, president of the company, introduced the plan last August, stockholders have invested 9 1/2 per cent of their dividends in war bonds. This is well ahead of the national average.

WASHINGTON: Planes of the 12th U. S. air force sank or damaged 54 Axis ships in North African waters, ranging from light cruisers to freighters between November 8 and February 1, it was announced here in a report received from Allied headquarters in North Africa. The report disclosed that 13 ships had been sunk, seven severely damaged, and 34 others damaged.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Tea for You, With Delicious Cranberry Pastries!
(See Recipes Below)

... And Cookies, Too!

You may not serve tea, and you may not even have coffee, but you still like that pause in the afternoon with a few good friends, to mull over the happenings of the day, to get philosophical over the events that touch all of us. But have that pause whenever possible, even if you have just fruit juice and a few cookies or cakes. It's as important as the bigger things you do.

Have a hot or cold drink as the climate dictates, flavor them with honey if the sugar supply is low. Some supplies of tea are still obtainable for the hot or iced beverage, if you use the coffee ration at breakfast.

Chocolate and cocoa are obtainable now and then and make excellent hot beverages. Made with milk, they're nourishing, too. And if you make them with canned milk they're delightful. Somehow, the canned milks have an affinity with chocolate beverages.

Fruit juices have been a summer standby, but you should discover their winter uses, too! Hot lemonade is delightful as are combinations of lemon, orange, grapefruit and pineapple juice.

Those of you who like spending cold afternoons in front of the open fire will enjoy a small glass of a cool drink with a few tasty cookies. For this purpose, try mixing equal quantities of cranberry and orange juice or apricot and pineapple juice served in pretty glasses with cookies.

Small cakes and cookies are an attractive accompaniment with refreshing drinks. Our first one today is a sugar-saver, butter-saver, quickly and easily made:

Cranberry Fingers.

(Makes 24 fingers)

4 tablespoons butter or substitute
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
Milk
1 1-pound can jellied cranberry sauce

Grated rind of 1/4 orange

Work shortening and sugar into flour, and mix to a light dough with beaten egg and milk, using only enough milk to moisten. The mixture should be dry rather than wet. Divide into two portions. Roll one portion to an eighth of an inch thickness, place on a greased cookie sheet, and spread with crushed cranberry juice. Sprinkle with grated orange rind. Wet edges and cover with remaining dough, rolled to fit, pressing edges firmly together.

Brush with milk, sprinkle with sugar and bake in a moderately hot (375-degree) oven about 30 minutes. When cool, cut into finger strips also for serving.

Oranges enter the picture again, this time combined with maple syrup.

Lynn Says:

Handy Hints: When a recipe calls for sifted sugar or flour sift the ingredient before you measure it, so you'll get an accurate measurement.

In mixing cakes, add flour mixture to creamed sugar, shortening and egg before adding the moist ingredients, then alternate and add dry ingredients last. You'll get a better grained cake.

Muffins are beaten just enough to blend ingredients together. Don't overbeat.

Greasing cookie, cake and muffin tins with a mixture of pancake, made by blending 1/4 cup shortening with 1/4 cup flour prevents sticking.

up to make a drop cookie:

Orange Drop Cookies.
(Makes 90 cookies)
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
1/4 cup butter or substitute
1 cup maple syrup
2 eggs, beaten
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt

Cream together orange rind, shortening, maple syrup. Add beaten eggs, then flour sifted together with baking powder and salt. Drop the batter by spoonfuls onto a greased baking sheet and bake in a moderately hot (375-400-degree) oven and bake about 10 minutes or until lightly browned.

Molasses' apple butter were favorite ingredients of cookies in grandmother's time, and now they come in for a grand encore:

Old-Fashioned Molasses Cookies.

3/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1/4 cup butter or substitute
1/4 cup sugar
1 egg
1/4 cup apple butter
1 cup molasses

Sift together dry ingredients. Cream together butter and sugar, add egg and beat together until light and fluffy. Add apple butter and molasses and blend together thoroughly, then mix in sifted dry ingredients. Chill for 2 hours or more.

Roll as thinly as possible and cut into large cookies. Place on a lightly greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderate (375-degree) oven for 10 minutes. These cookies are crisp when baked, get soft if stored in tin for a day or so.

Honey and sour cream are an unbeatable combination in a cupcake, and here they are lined up with spices for an extra deliciousness:

Honey Spice Cupcakes.

1/4 cup butter or substitute
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup honey
2 egg yolks
2 cups flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons ground cloves
2 teaspoons allspice
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup thick, sour cream
3 egg whites

Cream butter, add sugar and honey, creaming well. Add egg yolks, one at a time and beat well. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with sour cream, beating after each addition. Fold in stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Bake in greased muffin tins in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes or in two greased cake tins.

Your icing for the cupcakes should be a halo of white swirls of honey icing which will not crack—and can be whipped up in a hurry:

Royal Honey Icing.

1 egg white, stiffly beaten
1/4 cup honey
1/4 teaspoon vanilla

To the stiffly beaten egg white, add honey slowly, beating continually until icing will stand in peaks. Fold in flavoring.

Letter To The Editors

January 22, 1943

Dear Mr. Whitaker:

I hope the rest of the home-town boys who are over-seas are as lucky as I am in receiving the GOW. It is no exaggeration to say that your paper is welcomed and as greatly appreciated as a letter from home. There is not an article, and hardly an ad that goes unread. Thanks for your efforts in getting the paper to me.

What happened to Whyte, Jr.'s column? It was my favorite, in that it seemed to keep me in touch with so many of the boys.

I would like to write an open letter to all the boys back home of life here in North Africa, but, since censorship will not permit, my only chance is to enclose an article from the "Stars and Stripes"—our Army newspaper—which I hope will prove of enough interest to merit a space in one of your issues. If, at the end of the article, you wish to make mention of the sender's status in this war, mother can give the necessary information.

Thanks again for the paper. Please note my return address and change my mailing address to same, thus speeding my receipt of each issue.

My regards to all.

Sincerely,

Sgt. Robt. M. Butler.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is from somewhere in Africa.

Jackson, Miss., February 11, 1943
Mr. W. W. Whitaker, Editor
The Grenada County Weekly,
Grenada, Mississippi
Dear Mr. Whitaker:

On February 4th you published an editorial in the Grenada County Weekly concerning transportation between Camp McCain and Grenada, and yesterday while in Grenada I discussed this matter with you.

We want to call your attention that upon orders from Colonel Ryder we have instructions to take up our transportation problems with Lieutenant Traber, who is the man designated by the Colonel. I am sure that you understand that in handling such matters we have to go through the proper channels in official order.

I have investigated the complaint that was made to you, or your wife, and find that it came from an officer of the Quarter Masters Corps, who is only interested in transporting some negro workers, and not in the Camp in general.

We now have at Camp McCain 14 buses and hope this week to add two trailers, each of which can carry approximately 100 men. I am sure that you know that all new equipment is frozen and has been for many months and our only chance of securing additional equipment is to purchase second hand units.

This week we are starting to re-vamp the Grenada Bus Station. We will make the white rest room considerably larger and entirely re-vamp the colored waiting room, paint the entire place up and operate it with Tri-State employees on a 24 hour a day basis. We have planned to do this work for the past six or eight weeks but it was not until a few days ago that we got approval from the War Production Board to go ahead with the rest room facilities. The people of Grenada should be pleased that we will so ahead with the building of a large latrine which will accommodate white and colored men and will relieve the congestion in the bus station.

When you can, we would like to have you notify the public through your paper, the steps we are taking and the reasons for the delay.

Let me take this opportunity to thank you and your wife for the courtesy that you have showed the Tri-State Transit Company in the past.

Very truly yours,
Tri-State Transit Company,
J. B. Randall.

A lot of my New York buddies in my barracks read it. The Rotogravure Edition certainly was good.

Well, I am a full-fledged soldier now since finishing my Basic Training on 1-31. We are going to school again. Taking Technical Training. The Colonel said we are strictly an overseas regiment and we will have to finish a course in ten weeks, what it took nine months at Aberdeen, Md. to finish, of course you will get only the high points and you will have to study hard and have long hours. So far I am getting along fine and am OK in every way.

On our last week of Basic Training we had to go out on bivouac on a ranch near the mountains (W. K. Kellogg Ranch—the Corn Flake man).

We put down our little tents on the slopes and on the second night out a storm came with a heavy rain about 3 o'clock in the morning. It blew half of the tents down in the valley and all the victims got soaking wet as well as all their belongings. The Colonel came out and ordered the company to return to their barracks and the bivouac was finished the following week. During that week we had Rifle Range practice for our first time. We used the General Automatic Rifle and was firing at a 10-in. bull's eye on a 200-yard range. It was the first time I ever shot an Army rifle, but luckily your Grenada city boy (me) hit 3 bull's eye out of the first five shots.

I was second high man of the company of 250 men. I was within 2 points of high.

I am sending you a news item about Camp Santa Anita. It looks a lot of being finished. A lot of workmen are employed here. It reminds me of the building of Camp McCain. This is a lovely site, beautiful flowers, trees and shrubbery everywhere. Large orange groves are adjacent along the highways in many places as a matter of fact we have some orange trees near barracks. Hollywood stars usually come out every Friday night and give us a free show in the grandstand theatre. I have seen several stars. I go to Los Angeles and Hollywood on week ends.

Tell your son, Ah, hello for me. With best wishes to you and Mrs. Whitaker, I am

Yours truly,
Baby Bingham.

Camp Hood, Texas, Feb. 8, 1943
Dear Mr. Whitaker:

You probably do not remember me, but I left in the Company at Grenada in 1940 with the rest of the boys. I was in the Company with Whyte for two years and have earned a commission now in Tank Destroyer Branch. I would like to have a picture and a short write up in your paper. I will give you a brief description of my career in the army from which you can make the write up. Please send me a bill for the charges and I will remit as soon as received. Sorry I haven't had time to visit the old home town in the last year.

I entered with N. G. at Grenada and spent one year in Camp Blinding as a Cpl. after a year I transferred to Tank Destroyer Bn. where I became Sgt. In two months, then Staff Sgt. and later First Sgt. for which I held for six months then Master Sgt. From Master Sgt. I went to Tank Destroyer Office Candidate School and received a commission on January 21. I am now attending an Officers' Automotive Course for three months, and hoping to be able to go across soon.

In addition to this I have even managed to spend a total of 15 days with my wife in ten months of married life, so you see it's all work here and no play. I would like to wish all my friends good luck and keep buying war bonds.

Your truly,
Lt. James M. Martin,
O. A. T. Co. D.
Student Officer Bn.
Student Rec. T. O. S.
